Community Competition Winners

The judges said: This work chosen for clearly stating the importance of the NHS, this was one reason, but in the judging, we decided that she has constructed a wonderful message re-assuring people that there is support out there. The colouring was also commented on as uplifting and really well done with lots of patience. Because the work is made up of lots of writing we want her to have the Poetry prize and hope this encourages her to continue to use words to help and support others.

Well done for winning the art prize!

Comments from the judges: Her work looks so simply done, yet it crosses boundaries between the representation of one object and becomes a simile for another, the mask becomes the driver's mirror. The presentation gives the image animation and the message is still being used by the government in many ways, 'road map out of restrictions' 'This Journey' etc...

Happy Birthday
